

1. What does living well look like for me in this season of life?

2. What are three small things that already bring me comfort or joy?

3. What is something I want to make more space for?

4. What might I need to gently let go of to live more intentionally?

